The Weekly Cleaning Schedule

One room a day, Monday to Saturday, with Sunday off. Tick the boxes, roll a missed day forward, and the house stays clean without a weekend marathon.

Each day is one room or one job and fits in under 45 minutes. The daily habits at the bottom are what make the weekly sessions short.

MONDAY
Kitchen reset
30 to 40 minutes

- [ ] Counters, stovetop and appliance fronts wiped
- [ ] Microwave: bowl of lemon water, 3 minutes, wipe
- [ ] Fridge: expired food out, shelves wiped with baking soda water
- [ ] Trash and recycling out
- [ ] Sweep, then mop

TUESDAY
Bathrooms
20 to 30 minutes each

- [ ] Spray toilet, sink, shower and tub first, let it sit 5 minutes
- [ ] Meanwhile: clear the counter, collect towels, restock paper
- [ ] Toilet inside and out, sink and faucet
- [ ] Mirror: spray the cloth, not the glass
- [ ] Shower walls and door, floor incl. behind the toilet
- [ ] Fresh towels, trash out

WEDNESDAY
Dusting
20 to 30 minutes

- [ ] Top down: fan blades, fixtures, door frames
- [ ] Shelves, frames, sills, baseboards
- [ ] Flat surfaces: nightstands, tables, desks
- [ ] TV screen, monitor frames, speaker grilles
- [ ] Lampshades with a lint roller

THURSDAY
Floors
30 to 45 minutes

- [ ] Vacuum every carpet and rug, crevice tool along edges
- [ ] Move the dining chairs and vacuum under
- [ ] Hard floors: vacuum first, then damp mop
- [ ] Work from the back of the room to the door
- [ ] Shake out entry mats and small rugs outside

FRIDAY
Laundry
Loads through the day

- [ ] Bedding first, on hot
- [ ] Towels from every bathroom and the kitchen
- [ ] Darks, then lights and whites
- [ ] Fold and put away each load as it finishes
- [ ] Wipe the drum and door gasket with a vinegar cloth
- [ ] Iron or steam while the last load dries

SATURDAY
Living areas
30 to 45 minutes

- [ ] Basket circuit: collect everything that does not belong, then return it in one lap
- [ ] Cushions fluffed and rotated, throws folded
- [ ] Vacuum upholstery with the brush tool
- [ ] Remotes, switches and handles wiped
- [ ] Mail, papers and magazines sorted
- [ ] First Saturday: add one monthly job (see below)

SUNDAY
Rest
Under 10 minutes

- [ ] Kitchen wipe after meals
- [ ] Dishwasher loaded and run
- [ ] Full trash bags out
- [ ] Five minute walk through: pillows, jackets, shoes
- [ ] Then stop. The day off is the point.

EVERY DAY, UNDER TEN MINUTES TOTAL

The five habits that keep the week short

1. Make the bed every morning.
2. Dishes straight after meals, or into the dishwasher right away.
3. Wipe the kitchen counters after cooking.
4. Put things back where they live instead of setting them down.
5. A two minute tidy before bed: clothes up, surfaces clear, tomorrow prepped.

WHY SCHEDULES FAIL

Keep it going

No day over 45 minutes	If a day keeps running long, split it. A schedule that needs 90 minutes collapses the first busy week.
Define done	A short checklist per room, like the ones above, tells you when to stop instead of drifting.
Laundry on a home day	It needs you nearby for hours. Move it if Friday is not that day.
A missed day rolls forward	Carry it to tomorrow. The schedule is a template, not a contract.
One room per day	Switching rooms in one session is more tiring than finishing one room properly.

FIRST SATURDAY, PLUS 30 MINUTES

Monthly add-ons, rotate over three months

- [ ] Inside the oven
- [ ] Windows, inside and out
- [ ] Cabinet fronts and handles
- [ ] Behind and under the fridge and stove
- [ ] Descale the coffee maker and kettle
- [ ] Curtains washed or blinds dusted
- [ ] Light switch plates
- [ ] Dishwasher vinegar cycle

EVERY THREE MONTHS, A TWO HOUR BLOCK

Seasonal reset

- [ ] Flip and rotate mattresses
- [ ] Wash pillows and duvet inserts
- [ ] Deep clean carpets (rented machine or baking soda)
- [ ] Gutters and exterior windows
- [ ] Outdoor furniture washed
- [ ] Sort and donate unused clothes
- [ ] Replace HVAC filters
- [ ] Test smoke and carbon monoxide detectors
- [ ] Garage or storage areas organized

This week

Sunday is a real day off. That is what makes the other six stick.
